15. The Russian Consulate.
16. The Astor Hotel.
17. The German Consulate.
18. The American Consulate.
19. The Japanese Consulate.

REPARATIONS POLICY IN CHINA IS CONSIDERED

NEW ADDITION TO HOSPITAL READY; NURSES REQUIRED

Local Training School Offers Fine Chance for Profession

The Dixon Public Hospital is about to open the new 25 bed addition to the hospital, and will require an increased number of nurses. Those interested in the nursing profession and wishing to enter the next class should apply or make arrangements at once with the Superintendent of the hospital.

The Katherine Shaw Bethea Training School has thirteen young women in training under the Superintendent, Mabel A. Young, R. N., a graduate of the University Hospital, Ann Arbor, Mich. The school is accredited by the State Board of Registration, and is affiliated with the Michael Reese Hospital of Chicago, where the pupils receive three months training in Pediatrics.

Has Excellent Staff

The Superintendent is assisted by a very capable staff of four graduate nurses; one operating room supervisor, Miss Garland Heinmiller, R. N., graduate of the Dixon Public Hospital; one floor supervisor, Miss Ada Decker, R. N., graduate of the Wesley Memorial Hospital, Chicago; Miss Ruth Melberg, R. N. graduate of the Dixon Public Hospital, supervisor of the Maternity Department and Nursery; Miss Goldie Garrett, R. N., night supervisor, and Miss Beulah Beamish in charge of the diet and housekeeping department. This staff has charge and is responsible for the organizing and administering of the various services connected with the care of the sick, in the most efficient and economical manner possible.

Instruction is given by the staff physicians and surgeons, instructor of nurses, supervisors, and department heads. The course follows as closely as possible the "Standard Curriculum" recommended by the National League of Nursing Education. The course extends over a period of three years and prepares the pupil for examination under the State Board of Nurse Examiners to obtain the Degree of Registreed Nurse.

Course Without Cost

The nurses' course is equivalent to a college education, and a girl may receive her education practically without expense as her board and room and a generous compensation are provided. Nursing is neither hard work nor difficult to learn, for the pupil who is interested and who has the high school education, it is in fact, very interesting and leads to a profession that is well paid and in which there are many opportunities for advancement. The day she graduates the nurse may usually begin her work, without searching for a position, or waiting for a tardy practice to grow. Nurses receive six and seven dollars per day with board and room. She has no expensive outfit to keep up, and so long as she desires, she has an assured income. The nurses' course opens into a wide field. They may go into public health nursing, infant welfare work, school nursing, insrtuctor in hygiene, army and navy hospital corps, resident nurse in colleges and universities, anaesthetist, X-ray and laboratory technician, industrial nurse, office nurse with physician, supervising nurse in hospital, instructor of nurses in hospital training schools.

If she wishes to go into any field of work, her nursing training is always a valuable asset, and is of priceless value in her own home. What profession can offer more? There are probably about 200,000 graduate nurses practicing in the United States at the present time, and yet the demand far exceeds the supply.

BACK OVER THE TOP

It will be several months before the "Second A. E. F." goes "back over the top" to recapture the host of memories won in 1918.

But the army of good will is mobilizing now. Every detail is being carefully planned for the occupation of France next September. More than 30,000 ex-doughboys, marines and gobs are hoarding "beaucoup francs" and are looking forward to their second big adventure.

The Telegraph has sent a scout over the top to plot the tersain and make a complete report to The Telegraph readers. He is Paul Adams, author of "An Ex- Buck Private Goes Back to France," a series of stories that will bring back World War days vividly to you. It starts Saturday.

Armed only with a typewriter and a camera, Adams will reconnoiter every sector, visit all the scenes of action, all the little towns and camps, and gay Paree itself. He'll tell you of the changes, of the rehabilitation and the old familiar sights that still remain.

He will give you all the information you need if you're going to France next fall. And if you're not, you'll be just as much interested in his fascinating stories of reminiscence and present-day observation. Saturday you'll go "back over the top" with Paul Adams.

LATE BANKER OF ASHTON PLANNED FOR A MEMORIAL

N. A. Petrie Set Aside Trust Fund for Gym and a Library

A memorial gift to Ashton in the name of its oldest business firm, Mills & Petrie, has become known this week, and the memorial which will be built at some future time will surpass in beauty and utility any public building in this section of the state.

The nature of the memorial is a library and gymnasium, which will be for the development of the intellect and the body of the people of the community. The cost of the memorial including the trust fund, accrued interest and the fine property on which the building will be erected will total about seventy-five thousand dollars.

May 3rd, 1924, Nathan A. Petrie, executed a trust agreement by way of creating this memorial. Mr. Petrie shows his great appreciation of the public in the following paragraph: "..... ever remembering my Creator, whose benevolent protection and guidance has enabled me in His name to express my appreciation of, and admiration for, the people of Ashton and vicinity in the manner hereinafter declared, and now, realizing that I am nearing the sunset of life, my heart goes out to mankind in general, and especially to the people of the Village of Ashton and its surrounding country, with whom I have been closely allied socially and in a business way for many years. Ompotence having prospered me, my conscience calls that I contribute a helping hand for the happiness, and advancement, educationally, socially, morally and religiously of the world....."

Created Trust Fund.

At the time of creating the trust fund, Mr. Petrie transferred and delivered to Mary E. Charters, Gideon A. Hamel, Raph S. Charters, Frank S. Hart and Paul W. Charters, in the name of Mills & Petrie the sum of sixty-two thousand dollars in the form of securities in trust to be appropriated by them for the erection and maintenance of a public library and gymnasium to be located in the Village of Ashton. In addition to the providing a fund, Mr. Petrie purchased the George E. Griffith property on Lincoln Highway at a cost of nine thousand dollars as the most desirable site for the proposed building.

Mr. Petrie did not leave the trustees of the fund in doubt as to his wishes, and in the following paragraph from the trust instrument he suggests what the building shall contain. "For further advice with reference to said library building I suggest that the building contain three rooms, that is, one room for a public library and reading room, one for the American Red Cross Society, Y. M. C. A., the Veterans of the World War, and all other soldiers resident in the territory hereinafter described, who may have taken or may hereafter take part, on behalf of the United States, in any war to which the United States has been or may be hereafter a party, that they may have a home in which to meet and deliberate, and another gymnasium room for athletic exercises."

Location is Ideal.

The location selected for the building by Mr. Petrie nearly a year ago is conceded to be the most ideal in Ashton. The property is very commodious, is paved on both sides, and water and sewer connections have been laid. The plot is nicely elevated, and will make a most suitable site for the building, and is in keeping with the planned memorial. The property fronts on the Lincoln Highway.

Continued Secrecy in Movements and Condition of Mfg'r.

Detroit, Mich., April 1—(AP)—Henry Ford, lying prostrate, strapped and braced about the chest and back, in the utter seclusion of his great estate at Dearborn, regards his injuries as received in an accident which may never be solved. He does not and never has said that he believed there was a deliberate plot upon his life.

Harry H. Bennett, head of the Ford organization's nation-wide system of investigating, was responsible for the statement.

The same secrecy that surrounded Mr. Ford's admittance to the hospital last Tuesday, 48 hours after the accident, attended the return to his estate.

While officers of the Ford organization were reported to be preparing an official statement, they declined at first to confirm or deny that the injured motor king had left the hospital.

DRUNK TRIED TO "PIRATE" TRAIN IN AMBOY YARDS

Walter Wallace Sought to Take Possession of Big Engine

Walter Wallace, a transient, who gave his home as Utical in LaSalle county, was removed from the locomotive of a north bound Illinois Central freight train in the yards at Amboy last evening about 6:30 by officers and railroad employes. Wallace, who was said to have been in a highly intoxicated condition had tried to board the train as it was about to leave the yards, and a member of the train crew, discovering his condition, ordered him off the train.

Wallace became abusive, it is said and climbed on the locomotive, where he showed a disposition to fight when ordered off the engine, and refused to go. Special Agent Joseph Brierton and Officer C. T. Shith were called and assisted by members of the train crew, removed the intoxicated man and took him to the Amboy city jail. When searched, he was found to be carrying a bottle of "moon", the officers said.

This morning Wallace was brought to Dixon and an information charging him with possessing and transporting liquor on railroad property was filed in the county court before Judge William L. Leach. His case was continued until the June term of the county court and his bond fixed at $1,000 which he was unable to furnish, necessitating his being locked up in the county jail.

Workman Buried by Cave-in of Trench

Earl Pope, residing in Swissville and employed at the gas plant of the Illinois Northern Utilities company, was buried while at work in a trench Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Pope was engaged in fixing a pipe in a trench when loose dirt became dislodged and covered him over while he was in a stooping position. Another workman observed the unusual incident and summoned assistance. A force of men hurriedly dug their fellow workman out of his position to find that he was uninjured and suffered no ill effects.

WINTER PUT OVER APRIL FOOL JOKE ON CENTRAL WEST

Rain, Snow, Cold Wind Marked Advent of Month Today

Chicago, April 1—(AP)— Winter played a cold All Fools' Day prank on middle America today, pouring snow down the back of thinly-clad spring and roaring his glee with winds of gale force and Arctic chill.

Rapid City, S. D., saw 18 inches of snow when it threw back the shutters this morning and the ground was unseasonably white in other parts of that state and in western Nebraska.

the red fluid in the thermometers crawled downward in Kansas and Oklahoma and in the northern Rocky region. It rained over a wide area of the plains states and there were thunderstorms and high winds.

Chicago too, had some snow, but its chief weather complaints were rains driven by a gale that picked up a biting chill as it swept over Lake Michigan.

PLOT TO INCITE RACE RIOTING IN CHICAGO CHARGED

Mayoralty Campaign Gets Hotter: Thompson Claims Forgery

Chicago, April 1—(AP)—A political plot to fill Chicago's loop with negroes wearing badges that carry the name of William Hale Thompson, republican mayoralty candidate, was charged today by Thompson as an attempt to influence by incitement to race hatred next Tuesday's election.

In a formal statement, Thompson said:

"I have pledged two years of my life to put George Brennan (democratic leader) and Mayor William E. Dever (democratic candidate for re-election) in the Penitentiary if they start a race riot in Chicago and large numbers of people are killed because of their desire to influence political opinion by race hatred.

"I hold in my hand a forged letter which reads:

"Dear Friends: Matters of unusual importance have trisen andd prolpt me to write to you tt this time. Will you arrange to meet me persolally at my Hotel Sherman headquarters Friday, April 1, between the hours of 12 and 1 p. m.

"Very sincerely yours,

William H. Thompson.

"P. S.—Wear this badge of Big Bill. It will admit you immerlately."

The letter, Thompson's statement said, was sent out to 10,000 persons and was for the purpose of "flooding the loop with negroes wearing Thompson badges for the purpose of creating race hatred". He hald steps would be taken "to put the person who ordered this work done over my forged signature into the penitentiary.

Labor Union Held Fine Meeting at Their Hall

A meeting of the labor union was held last evening in their quarters over the Sullivan drug store, talks being made by Rev. Weaver and H. A. Brooks. "Unionism," generally was the subject of the evening and short talks were also made by several of the attendants. The meeting was a very successful one and another is being planned for the near future.

ACTION RESULT RECENT RIOTS IS CONSIDERED

Guarantees for Safety of Americans Will be Demanded

Washington, April 1— (AP)—The American government is believe to be giving serious consideration to formulation of a policy for reparation for the reported outrages at Nanking and for the exaction of guarantees for the safety of Americans elsewhere in China.

The state department today, however, maintained its complete reliance on the subject and officials in other departments familiar with recent developments in China declined to throw any light on what might be going on.

Press dispatches from London, on the other hand, intimated that exchanges were in progress between capitals of various powers involved in the Chinese situation while conferences at the White House and state department late yesterday appeared to give foundation to the belief that the rafting of an American policy is occupying the minds of officials.

While there is no indication that a decision has been made, the prolonged conference between Secretary Kellogg and Nelson Johnson, head of the department's far eastern division, presumably was for the discussion of recommendations that have come from Minister Mac Murray at Peking and Admiral Williams, American naval commander in Chinese waters.

U. S. CONSULATE CLOSED

Shanghai, April 1—(AP)— Threats of disorders and anti-foreign agitation in the northern ports of China were claiming most of the attention of the American authorities today.

The United States Destroyer Preston has arrived at Chefoo on the northern part of the Shantung peninsula, while the Destroyer Pillsbury has left Shanghai for Tsingtao on the southern part of the peninsula where large Japanese naval forces also are concentrating.

A move which is looked upon as signalizing the beginning of complete American evacuation of the upper Yangtse is the official closing and sealing of the U. S. Consulate at Chungkiang by the consul, W. A. Adams on March 30.

Threatening situations are reported at Wu Hu and Kankow. Rear Admiral H. H. Hough, on the United States patrol vessel Isabel, left for the Nanking region proceeding further up the river to Wu Hu where parades and demonstrations were scheduled for today.

Lineman's Foot Crushed by Heavy Pole Falling

Jesse Farris, a lineman in the employ of the Illinois Northern Utilities company, suffered a painful injury yesterday afternoon while working on Brinton avenue with a force of men who were replacing a broken pole. The men were carrying the pole when a hook slipped, allowing one end of the pole to drop. It struck Mr. Farris on the left foot, badly crushing the member. He will be confined to his home for several days.

SPECIAL SERVICES TO MARK APPROACH OF EASTER SUNDAY

Rev. J. Q. Moore Will Conduct Meetings in This City

Two weeks of devotional and evangelistic services will mark the 1927 Easter Season, in the Dixon Christian church, in which Jas. Q Moore, successful pastor at Sterling, will assist by bringing special sermons every night at 7:30 (except Saturday), and on the two Sunday mornings, April 3rd and 10th.

Rev. Cleaver, Dixon pastor, will supply in Sterling for Mr. Moore on the two Sundays and each minister will occupy his own pulpit Easter Day. The very cordial and neighborly relations of the two congregations are being emphasized this year, through this exchange of services, the Dixon pastor having spent a fortnight already with the Sterling people, in a similar work during January.

Pastor Moore's three years in Sterling have been full of results. More than a hundred new members have been added, the pipe-organ paid for, a large Men's Bible Class established, and the church led forward in all lines of co-operative and missionary progress.

Mr. Moore was lately re-elected as President of the widely known Sterling-Rock Falls Board of Religious Education, which carries on Bible Classes in connection with the Public schools.

Sermon subjects to be presented in this series of meetings are:

Sunday, April 3—Life's Purpose (morning). Compromises with the Devil (evening.)

Monday, April 4—The Mission of Christ.

Tuesday, April 5—Our Brother's Keeper.

Wednesday, April 6—The Portrait of Christ.

Thursday, April 7—The Lure of the Immediate.

Friday, April 8—Not What but Whom.

Sunday, April 10—Christ Our Criterion of Character (morning). Comparisons: Man with Man, Man with God (evening).

Monday, April 11—The Fifth Gospel.

Tuesday, April 12—What Determines the Wise, the Foolish.

Wednesday, April 13—God's Way and Our Way.

Thursday, April 14—Comparisons: The Godly and the Ungodly.

Friday, April 15—The Beginning of the End.

The music for the meetings will be in charge of Miss Fioto and Mr. A. L. Leydig, with the regular choir each night through the week.

VICTROLA PLAYS SOLID HOUR WITH NO HUMAN TOUCH

Marvelous Machine is Shown in Dixon for First Time Today

Before a group of prominent music lovers, heads of civic organizations, city officials, educators and music critics an automatic talking machine which changes its own records and permits of an hour of music without touching the instrument, was demonstrated here for the first time today. The instrument, which is the latest development in the field of musical reproduction, was invented by engineers of the Victor Talking Machine Company after two years of intensive experimenting.

The demongtration was conducted at Miller's music store by Ray Miller Victor dealer, who announced it as the fourth revolutionary development of the Victor Company since the fall of 1925.

The moment the instrument was opened and placed in operation, its simplicity and ease of operation were impressed upon the audience. A dozen records were placed in the magazine, which is suspended at an angle above the turntable of the instrument.

At a turn of the switch controlling the electric current supply, the turntable began to revolve. The mechanical "hand" picked the first record from the twelve in the magazine and placed it gently upon the revolving turntable. The tone arm swung into playing position, and the needle was lowered to the record with unerring accuracy. And all of these operations were performed silently, surely, and with an exactness that no amount of skill by the human hand could quite duplicate.

Marvelous Instrument

Immediately after the needle touched the record the music began. The record was played to the end, and the needle slid over into the eccentric groove of the record. The sound box was lifted by the remarkable mechanism and moved to one side. Again the mechanical "hand" went smoothly and silently into operation, removed the record that had been completed, and deposited it quietly in a felt lined case just below the magazine. The "hand" then continued up to the magazine, picked off the second record, deposited it on the still revolving turntable, the tone arm returned to playing position and the music resumed.

Time after time the operation was performed with unfailing sureness, until the last record had been played, removed from the turntable and deposited in the felt lined receiving drawer. Then the turntable stopped automatically. The instrument was ready for another selection of twelve records, and another hour of music without attention from the operator.

Mr. Miller called attention particularly to the simplicity of design, which requires no experience in operation. The series of gears and cams are completely enclosed, as is the electric motor which operates them. It is practically trouble-proof as laboratory tests have proved.

The instrument will be demonstrated to the public next Monday morning, beginning at 9:00 o'clock and continuing throughout the day at Miller's store.

EXTENT OF MINES SUSPENSION IS NOT DETERMINED TODAY

All Mines in Country Down Today As It is a Holiday

Chicago, April 1—(AP)— Organized labor's 350,000 mine workers today held holiday commemorating the coming to the mines of the eight hour day.

Thus, because both hard and soft coal mines were idle, there was no way to determine how effective will be the suspension of work in the organized bituminous fields as a result of the failure of miners and operators to agree upon wages.

President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America spent the day in Illinois, speaking at Taylorville where he dedicated a granite monument to Frank Bilyeu, a miner who lost his life in the Virden riot of 1898. He did not comment on the suspension of work.

May Be Drawn Out

Ellis Searles, editor of the official journal of the United Mine Workers, was quoted at Pittsburg, Pa., as saying the suspension might last "a month six months or a year or more."

Phillip Murray, international vice president of the union at Pittsburgh, gave assurance to peace officers that the union will cooperate to the utmost in maintaining order.

There have, however, been no indications anywhere in the afected areas of disorders. The miners for the most part took their personal belongings with them when they left the mines yesterday and remained away today.

Operators Uninformed

Illinois operators, employing more than 72,000 men are without any information as to the possible extent of the suspension and do not expect to know definitely what the situation will be until next Tuesday.

The Illinois operators have not as yet received the invitation for a wage conference sent them yesterday by Harry Fishwick, Illinois district president mine workers. They have indicated however, that they will not discuss any agreement which calls for a continuation of the present Jacksonville scale, which the operators believe too high to make competition with nonunion coal fields profitable.

Dark Parked Auto Cause of Accident

Failure to keep parking light lighted resulted in an automobile crash on Seventh street near Crawford avenue about 10 o'clock last night, in which it is reported, the driver of one car sustained several bad cuts and his machine was damaged to such an extent that it had to be towed to a garage for repairs. The injured driver, whose name could not be learned, was going east on Seventh street and met another car going in the opposite direction, which failed to dim its lights. Becoming confused by the bright lights, the driver of the east bound car did not observe a third car which was parked at the curb without lights and crashed into it.

Kline Made Distributor for G. & J. Line Tires

The Kline Auto Supply of this city has been selected by the United States Rubber company, as a distributing branch for their new G. & J. brand of tire. The Dixon branch will supply several counties in Illinois, and tires will be shipped here in car load lots. The establishment of a branch in Dixon has become necessary to supply the demand for the various sizes any types of tires now on the market, and this demand has been materially increased locally by the completion of paved state highways into Dixon.

Secretary of Dixon Loan & Building Ass'n. Hurt

Hal Bardwell experienced a narrow escape from serious injury last evening while engaged in arranging a display of fossils on the second floor at the Dixon public library building. Mr. Bardwell was placing some specimens in the lower section of a big display case which is equipped with two large sliding glass doors about five feet square. One of the doors suddenly fell out of the case striking Mr. Bardwell on the left side of his head and crashing to the floor, where the big piece of glass was shattered. Fortunately, however, Mr. Bardwell sustained only a slight flesh wound.

ROBBER FATALLY SHOT WATCHMAN; GOT BUT 41 CENTS

Terre Haute, Ind., to investigate the shooting. They found that the burglar had forced open a window in the ticket office and taken only a few cents left in the money drawer overnight.

In the darkness, the aged postoffice messenger who had a key to the waiting room, apparently had gone in there to wait as train number 6 was late. He is believed to have been shot down as he entered by the burglar, hidden in the darkness.

The assailant left no trace as far as could be learned, but authorities throughout Effingham and adjacent counties were warned. Mikeworth remained virtually unconscious in the hospital where little hope for his recovery is held.

Raise Weight Limit of Trucks in County

The law permitting trucks with a gross weight of 5,000 pounds to pass over county highways, was modified somewhat this morning when County Superintendent Fred W. Leake increased the weight limit to 6,000 pounds. In permitting heavier loads to use the county roads, the superintendent stated that the weather of the past two weeks had settled many of the roads, although there were several bad spots remaining. He also insisted that the emergency rule would be carefully checked and loads with a gross weight exceeding 6,000 pounds would be stopped and the drivers prosecuted.

OLD MASTERS

OLD MASTERS C

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound or foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark;

For though from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

—Alfred Tennyson: "Crossing the bar."

Seventy-Seventh Birthday Remembered

Mrs. Clara Smice was happily surprised at her home, 304 Pine street Wednesday evening, the occasion for the celebration being her 77th birthday anniversary.

Thirty-five guests gathered to assist Mrs. Smice to pass an enjoyable evening, which was spent with games and music. Mrs. William Cooper gave several violin selections. Mrs. Smice received many handsome gifts in honor of the day. A delicious birthday luncheon was served, a feature of which was a tempting birthday cake. All left at a late hour wishing Mrs. Smice much happiness and future delightful birthdays.

Were Entertained At Cline Home

Mrs. Oscar Cline delightfully entertained the Presidents' Association of the Ladies of the G. A. R. Circle at her home Tuesday with a one o'clock luncheon.

The luncheon table was prettily decorated; the centerpiece composed of red roses.

Mrs. Justus Schweinsberg, the president, presented Mrs. Jens Petersen, whose birthday occurs in the month of March, with a birthday cake, also a blooming plant of primroses, in behalf of the club.

The club members were happy to have Mrs. Marie B. Hetler, Department President, with them at this meeting. Mrs. Hetler has been out of town o nofficial business for some time.

The association will entertain with a card party in G. A. R. hall, April 19th, at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. George Morris will be hostess for the April meeting.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SUMNER

"How I envy men!" said the girl with whom I dined last night, as we saw 30 or 40 fraternity lads invade the dining room, grab seats at their long reserved table, and begin to have the time of their lives what with back slapping, doing the anvil chorus on their glasses, singing school songs, and kidding the blue-eyed waitress. "Men," continued my philosophic friend, "have such better times in big groups than do women. They have no barriers of reserve to smash down. They are not self-conscious. They can let go! Can you imagine a gang of 4 women having fun like that?"

I couldn't. We snooped around for causes. We decided that woman's great indoor and outdoor pastime of gossip born of long centuries when only personalities entered her life and whee, in hushed tones, she discussed personalities of husband, children and neighbors with some other woman crony accounted for woman's penchant for small intimate groups rather than a hilarious time in big bunches. Maybe we're not right, but we're interesting!

CAVE MAN STUFF!

"He hurts me and wounds me and makes me miserable," says Denise, the abused wife in the sparkling French comedy of "Grounds for Divorce." And her lover, "the other man," sighs. "Ah, then I will never have you! For that is the kind of man women love!"

CHILD KILLS SELF

Helen Roach was only 14. But Helen killed herself the other day. Helen was exceptionally bright. She was an honor student in her freshman high school class. She played the piano and pipe organ and even broadcast her music on the radio.

But Helen shot herself. We've grown almost accustomed to our wave of college suicide as one young man or woman after another has "ended it all," leaving notes to explain that life seems but a snare and a delusion, or that curiosity urges them to learn "what next?" But any hint of an infantile wave of suicide is quite ghastly. What's wroog with the elders that we can't make life worth while for the kids? It is the beginning of the wave of nervous insanity which doctors and psychologists have prophesied for some time as the result of this complex day?

"HIRED GIRLS"

American "hired girls" are much better off than those of Europe, according to Jessie Stephen, Scotch socialist leader of England, and organizer of the first domestic workers' union in England, now in our country. She says that organized "hired girls" of Englond receive a minimum wage of $150 a year and board, an 8 hour day, a half-day off a week, and freedom after 2 p. m. on Sunday. She is working for organization of American domestic workers.

"WON'T DO IT!"

"'We won't do housework.' That, say employment officials, is what 99 percent of all girls applying for jobs say right off the bat. And not only girls. Older women will fight or 9-hour-a-day factory or store jobs where they will work on their feet all day long, when they could, as housekeepers, have a few afternoon hours to sit down with a book or sewing. At least, that's the argument of "the quality" ho want housekeepers. But housekeepers themselves say that "it gives any wife a terrible pain to see her help sit down. Women are stingy. They won't pay $10 a week without having such a chronic pain about it that they insist on getting $30 worth a week."

Yes, nice girls we are!

TO SPEAK AT VESPER SERVICE AT DEKALB—

Dr. A. W. Carlson will speak at the Vesper service at 4 o'clock at the First Methodist church at DeKalb Sunday, where he will give by request the book sermon, "The Prisoner Who Sang," by Johan Bojer.

"King's Daughters" Happily Entertained

The "King's Daughters" of the Grace Evangelical church were happily entertained at the Isaac Graybill home in North Dixon Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30 o'clock. Mrs. Graybill is the teacher of this class. The home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers for the occasion.

During the month of February there was a contest, the losing side to entertain the winners. The party was to have been an April Fool affair, but owing to one of the members moving away from town, was held a few days earlier. The program started with a Victrola number, "The King's Business." Miss Irene Gagstetter sang "In the Garden." A whistling solo was given by Miss Dorothy Plock. Mrs. Fred Kroehler favored with a cornet solo and Mrs. Glenn Richart gave a reading entitled "Eggs." Miss Mae Mueller gave a piano number.

At this time it would be well to mention the orchestral number under the capable direction of Mrs. J. Stroup. The orchestra consisted of five girls. Their music was wonderfully appropriate for April 1st.

Mrs. Charles Garrison ably presented the humorous, one act drama, "Romance," assisted by the following cast:

I, William Arise ..... Mrs. Ed Graves
Marry Mee ..... Mrs. Sarah Reis
Sign ..... Mrs. Ed Cummings
Aunt Etta Green Apple ..... Mrs. Phil Miller
Sister, Ive Payne ..... Mrs. Charles May
Servant, Mary Nutt ..... Mrs. J. Stroup
Moon ..... Mrs. Anna Stewart
Sun ..... Mrs. S. Senneff

Mrs. Ida Smith had composed and read "An Ode to the Class," which was much enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Graybill presented Mrs. Cummings, who is moving to Decatur, a memory book as a gift from the class. A two course luncheon was served. "A chicken's dinner," another feature followed with delicious refreshments. Everpone voted this one of the most enjoyable parties of the year.

TO VISIT DAUGHTER AT ROGERS PARK—

Mrs. Fred Dimick will go to Chicago tomorrow where she will visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Jenks at Rogers Park, Mrs. Jenks being her daughter.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY TO MEET—

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Immanuel Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon in the church basement.

WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE.

To all of us it is given to dream dreams. To a few is given the joy of complete fulfillment.

One of these fortunates is Anatol Josepho, youthful Russian inventor and socialist, who has just made a million dollars through his success in putting commercial photography on a cafeteria basis.

Josepho's plans are interesting.

Half of his million dollars he is setting aside as a trust fund for charity, "along economically sound lines." The other half he will administer in the interests of struggling inventors who are unable to bring their brain-children before the world because of poverty.

Thus, of his huge fortune, not a cent will go toward what might be called purely selfish purposes.

And it is that fact, and not the mere overnight transformation from penury to affluence, that has put Josepho on the front pages of all the newspapers in the country.

Money is power. The man with a million dollars is altogether a different man from the man with nothing. The latter is weak, helpless; the millionaire has the world for his servant. He has an instrument with which he can work mightily for good or for evil.

Now the dreaming of dreams is a small matter and an easy one. All of us fondly imagine the things we would do if—mark that, "if"—we had the power. We excuse our present inaction on the grounds that we are weak.

But when we get power, too often, we forget our dreams. We are untrue to our visions; we ignore the voice that tells us, as it told the old Hebrew prophet, "build after the pattern shown thee on the mountain."

That is why we all feel that honor is due young Anatol Josepho.

Instruments of great power have been placed into his hands. And, in the moment of triumph, he has remembered his principles; he has borne in mind the great motives of unselfishness and helpfulness.

The dreams that guided him while he was poor are still with him.

A LONG, HARD SEARCH.

The next Democratic presidential nominee, says Josephus Daniels, must be a composite of the characters of Samuel Tilden, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson. No other man, he says, can carry the party's standard fittingly.

All that the Democratic party now has to do is find such a man. This stunt, we believe, will not be easy.

Men who are the equals of Tilden, Cleveland and Wilson do not appear on the scene every day, or every decade. It looks as if the party had a hunt on its hands.

War Minister Painleve of France recently decorated his stenographer for "exceptional services." Mr. Mellon has some ideas of decoration he's been trying to get France to adopt.

A financier has set aside a fund to combat sleeping sickness. Now if another rich man would just come along with an appropriation to find out why nobody sleeps any more.

Country people are more liable to injury than city people, asserts an insurance man. Let's settle this question once and for all. Boy, page Mr. Borah and Mr. Butler.

Josephus Daniels says the Democrats' candidate for president must be a composite of Wilson, Tilden and Cleveland. There are three or four others he didn't mention.

American invention is keeping pace with the modern age, says a writer. So be it, while there yet are sick friends in need.

The fire department at Oberjoch, Germany, is composed entirley of women. Altogether now, girls and boys what is it they roll?

You can't buy gasoline in South Carolina on Sunday. What in the world do the people drink down there?

Ford asked the builders of his billion-dollar home not to tell him its exact cost. He must be a rich man.

No more roller skates in colleges! A co-ed at the University of Illinois fell and hurt herself the other day.

Andrews is weeding out "ignorant" prohibition agents. It seems some of the boys are all wet.

It won't be long now until we get out the garden tools and start raising blisters.

With all that publicity Charlie Chaplin ought to be a success in the movies.

There will be five women in the Fifty-fifth general assembly of Illinois.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES by KNICK

The Tinies started in to play, but soon the black sheep ran away. 'Oh Clowny scared it,' Coppy said, "by trying to take a ride." The other Tinies knew, of course, a sheep's a sheep and not a horse, and such a thing as riding one was foolishness, when tried.

The bunch then walked along the brook; they came upon a cozy nook where grass was long, and tall, wide trees spread out a map of shade. "Our sheep is gone. Why should we weep?" said Scouty. "Here's a place to sleep, so let's all flop and take a rest." And soon a bed was made.

They gathered leaves from all around and spread them nicely on the ground. "Just like a fluffy feather bed," said Clowny, in delight. The sun soon faded from the skies, and every Tiny closed his eyes. It seemed they all were very tired, and slept sound through the night.

When morning came, they all jumped up, and Coppy found an old tin cup. He scampered to the nearby stream and scooped a chilly drink. They found wild berries in the wood, and all agreed they tasted good. "What shall we do now?" Scouty said. "Just wait until I think."

But, as he thought, they heard a sound, and when the whole bunch turned around, they saw a pretty little girl a-running up the lane. "What is she chasing?" Clowny said. "Why, that's a gander, just ahead." And soon they heard the gander quack. And then it quacked again.

"Say, can we help you?" Coppy cried. "You bet you can," the girl replied. "This gander's very wild-like, and he wanders all around." The Tinies then took up the chase an scampered all around the place, until the gander toppled, and they pinned him to the ground.

SAINT and SINNER

"You were on that date engaged in designing and making garments for this defendant's trousseau?" Banning repeated.

"Yes, sir, I worked there six weeks, until November 13," Mrs. Dennis replied.

"Will you tell this jury how much you were paid for your work on Miss Cherry's trousseau?" Banning asked suavely.

"I object!" Churchill sprang to his feet, "on the grounds that such testimony is irrelevant, incompetent—"

"Objection overruled!" Judge Grimshaw silenced him.

Faith raised her hands to her burning cheeks, but Cherry's head was high, her eyes glowing like hot metal disks as they stared unkinkingly at the witness.

"Fifteen hundred dollars, which included the wages of my sewing woman, Mrs. Hogan," Mrs. Dennis answered with a note of pride behind her evident distress.

"Whose name was signed to the check with which you were paid?" Banning asked.

Again Churchill's objection was overruled.

"Mr. Cluny—Mr. Ralph Winston Cluny—signed the check," the witness said.

"Were her home surroundings, her standard of living in proportion to this expenditure for a trousseau?" Banning asked suggestively.

This time Churchill's objection was sustained.

"Now, Mrs. Dennis," Banning went on, not at all non-plussed, since he had got his point to the jury, "do you recall overhearing a conversation between this defendant and her sister and mother on the afternoon of Monday, October 25 last?"

"I do," Mrs. Dennis answered in a low voice, with another quick glance of appeal toward Faith.

"Tell, in your own words, the circumstances leading up to your overhearing this conversation and, as exactly as you can remember, the words of that conversation." Banning instructed her, strutting up and down before the witness chair like a crowing rooster.

"It was a few minutes after five. I was through work for the day and as in the hall of the Lane home, putting on my coat and hat. The door was open into the dining room and I could see Miss Faith Lane, her mother and Miss Cherry seated around the table. Miss Cherry and Miss Faith were addressing the envelopes of the wedding invitations—"

"Just a minute, Mrs. Dennis," Banning interrupted here. "Could you see all this from the hall?"

"The hat rack is almost directly opposite the dining room door."

"All right, Mrs. Dennis. Go ahead."

"First I heard Miss Faith say, 'What would happen in case you did not marry him?' And Miss Cherry answered immediately, that she supposed—"

"Use the deendant's exact words, as nearly as you can remember them, Mrs. Dennis," Banning interrupted her.

"Well, Miss Cherry said, as near as I can remember, "Oh, I suppose he would change his will if I broke with him, but don't you worry. I'm not going to let a million slip through my hands'—or words to that effect; I know she said 'million'—" Mrs. Dennis hesitated, her face going very red.

"You must go on with your story, Mrs. Dennis," Banning ordered her sharply. "What else did Miss Cherry say, if anything?"

"She—she said, 'Of course I don't say it would hurt my feelings'—or maybe she said "break my heart"—"if Mr. Cluny died before November 25", and then Mrs. Lane—"

"Oh, Muggy, Muggy!" Cherry's moaned appeal to her dead mother could be distinctly heard over the suddenly breathless courtroom.

TOMORROW: Churchill makes the most of "Madame Denise's" evident friendliness toward Cherry.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee.—Luke xix:22.

Forbear to judge, for we are sinners all.—Shakespeare.

Flashes of Life

BY THE AP

Washington—Uncle Sam has a little April Fool joke for insistent thirsty folks who disregard the constitution. Beginning today denatured alcohol will be quite nauseating having kerosene and various other distasteful things in it.

Basle—The number of jokes has been decreased by one. Switzerland has a navy—at least a mercantile marine. The Rhine is open for navigation as far as Basle.

Cheyenne, Wyo.—Respectfully referred to the Lucy Stone league. An applicant for a job has written the State Superintendent of Public Instruction:

"Your application for a certificate calls for my maiden name. I am not married yet. What shall I do?"

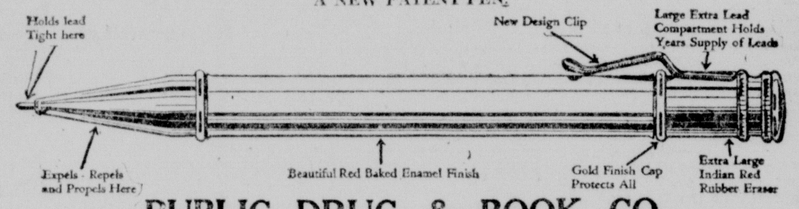

New Haven—A child should say "milk" at the age of two and not gurgle "blup" in the opinion of Dr. Blanton of Minneapolis, professor at Vassar, who gave his views in a lecture at Yale. "A child should talk by two years," he said.

Chicago—Stan Zbyszko is too old to garner more shekels in this state. The state athletic commission has a 45 year age limit for wrestlers. Stan says he's 48; commission says 55.

CAR BUILT TO FIT

Winsted, Conn.—James McClelland, Norfolk farmer, is 3 feet, 3 inches tall, but he drives a motor car, He put long pedals on a flivver, extended the emergency brake and shortened the wheel. James has a brother shorter than himself by two inches.

Good Thoughts for Good People

For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need.
Paul.

Men may dismiss compassion from his heart, But God will never.
Cowper.

Wise sayings often fall on barren ground, But a kind word is never thrown away.
Arthur Helps.

Sympathy is especially a Christian duty.
Spurgeon.

More hearts pine away in secret anguish for the want of kindness from those who should be their comforters than for any other calamity in life.
Young.

Jesus was the one who always expressed most perfect sympathy. There was never a needy one to whom he was not ready to give the tenderest, wisest help. He gave the necessary touch of compassion; the word which encouraged; the love which strengthened and healed; the rebuke which protected from wrong; and all because he himself had drained the cup of experience which taught him ready sympathy, sympathy born of a life purified through renunciation of human desires and purposes and thereby brought into complete subjection to the divine will.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals addressed to the Board of Local Improvements of the City of Dixon, Illinois, and endorsed "Proposals for the furnishing of the labor and materials for and the construction of concrete pavement, curbs and gutters, storm water curb inlets, cement sidewalks on Dixon Avenue and sanitary sewer with house connection laterals on East Seventh Street, in the City of Dixon, Illinois, as provided for in Local Improvement Ordinance Number 231, Series of 1927," will be received by the Board of Local Improvements of said City of Dixon, until 8:15 o'clock, P. M., Tuesday, April 12th, A. D. 1927, and will be publicly opened by the President of said Board of said City at a meeting of said Board of Local Improvements to be held in the Council Chamber in the City Hall in said City, at said hour of 8:15 o'clock P. M., April 12th, A. D. 1927.

Said bids shall be opened by the said President in the presence of a majority of said Board and shall remain on file in said President's office and be open for public inspection for at least 48 hours before an award of said contract is made to any competitive bidders. After the expiration of said 48 hours as above stated said Board shall meet and determine the most advantageous bid for the said City and publicly declare the same.

The work for which said tenders are invited is for the construction of 1276 cu. yds. excavation; 2104 lin. ft. of curb and gutter, 6"x12" curb, 6½"x18" gutter; 1-2-3½ mix; 260 lin. feet of 6½"x18" gutter; 140 lin. ft. 7"x12" headers; 3920 sq. yds. 7" concrete slab, 1-2-3½ mix with 8"x ⅜" asphalt joint filler; 800 sq. ft. 4" concrete sidewalks, 1-2-3½ mix; 6 storm water curb inlets; 50 lin. ft. 10" storm water sewer; 285 lin. ft. 8" sanitary sewer; 140 lin. ft. 6" house laterals; 1 sanitary manhole 4' diam.; 1 lamphole; 3 manhole covers adjusted to grade, all as provided for in said ordinance above mentioned.

Each bid for the improvement must be accompanied by a certified check or cash for an amount not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of such proposals. All certified checks must be drawn upon some responsible bank and payable to the order of said President in his official capacity. No bids will be considered unless accompanied by such certified check or cash.

Said cash or certified checks will be held by said Board until all bids have been canvassed and the contract has been awarded and signed. The return of such cash or certified check to the successful bidder being conditioned upon his or their appearance within twenty days after having been notified of the award having been made to him, or them, accompanied by his or their bondsmen and executing a contract with said Board of Local Improvements for the completion of the work so awarded and giving a bond satisfactory to said Board in a sum equal to at least one-third of the amount of such bid, with sureties to be approved by the President of such Board and filed with such Board which bond shall provide that the contractor shall well and faithfully perform and execute said work in all respects according to the detailed and complete specifications and full and complete drawings, profiles and models therefor, and according to the time, and terms and conditions of the contract and also that the contractor shall promptly pay all debts incurred by said bidder or contractor in the prosecution of such work, including those for labor and material furnished, and all bids shall contain an offer to furnish such bond upon the acceptance of such bid.

All proposals shall be made upon blanks to be furnished by the Clerk of said city at his office.

Payment for the work for which such tenders are invited is to be made in cash or bonds, payable when the contract is completed and the work accepted by said Board of Local Improvements, which bonds shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum. No bid will be accepted by said Board unless the party making it shall furnish sufficient capital to enable him successfully to prosecute the same in case the contract shall be awarded to him.

Bidders will examine the ordinance, maps, plats, plans, profiles and specifications and also the locality of such work and judge for themselves of all the circumstances and conditions affecting the cost and nature of said work. Specifications, maps, plans, profiles and ordinance aforesaid are on file in the office of the City Clerk of Dixon, Illinois.

The person to whom said contract for the construction of such improvement is awarded shall, before the commencement of work under such contract provide ample, suitable and valid insurance policies to provide against and pay all claims for injury to persons or property arising under the laws of the State of Illinois in the prosecution of such work.

The Board of Local Improvements reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Dated at Dixon, Ill., this 29th day of March, A. D. 1927.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH
Rev. Lloyd Warren Walter, Pastor
Rev. Carl B. Caughman, Pastor in India

9:30 a. m. Church School. W. E. White, Supt. That was a splendid recovery last Sunday, more than 160 were present over the Sunday before. It will be worth the effort to increase the attendance every week as well as to invite and enroll new members. There is a class for every person, to suit any age.

10:45 a. m. Divine Worship. Sermon topic: A People that Murmured. The united thought and prayer of a large congregation is a moving and conquering power. If you are without a church home come with us. Find comfort, shelter, inspiration and encouragement in the church. Have a pastor whom you call your own. There will be a number of accessions during the Easter period. What comfort or peace or hope is there in waiting and being without the promises of God.

6:30 p. m. Luther Leagpe. Topic, "The Cost of Sin." May it not be said of the young people, "They brought their friends, and together they worshiped and served their Lord in and through the church." The fact is the Luther League supplies the Young People's Choir with singers; they also contribute $150.00 annually toward the support of Rev. Caughman, our pastor on the Foreign Field. They conduct happy, blessed devotional services, besides cultivating the friendly spirit in their socials. Join the League.

7:30 p. m. Vesper Service. The Young People's Choir leads the music. Sermon topic: "Christ, the High Priest of Good Things to Come." Our evening service is happy, restful and devotional. We are glad to announce the increased attendance every Sunday night.

7:30 p. m. Wednesday, our helpful Lenten service. It is one of the islands of safety and rest in the middle of the week to which the people turn. You are again reminded to use prayerfully and regularly your Lenten offering envelope.

7:00 p. m. Monday rehearsal of the Young People's choir.

7:30 p. m. Monday the fifth and last lecture of the pastor on the fundamentals of our faith to a group of young people.

8:15 p. m. Monday, regular meeting of the Church Council.

2:30 p. m. Thursday, Ladies Aid meets in the church parlors.

7:30 p. m. The Senior Choir rehearses.

2:00 p. m. Saturday, Confirmation class meets.

You are invited to all our services.

PINE CREEK CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

Sunday school 10 A. M. Burt P. Stauffer, Supt.

Sermon at 11 a. m. by pastor.

April 10, we expect to begin a pre-Easter Evangelistic campaign under the leadership of the pastor and Elder Rev. U. H. Hoefle and Rev. C. W. Stauffer. They expect to hold services at the church each evening during the week. We extend a cordial invitation to everyone to worship with us in all our services and especially urge that you make your plans now to be with us every night in this week of Pre-Easter services.

Rev. U. H. Hoefle, Pastor.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, AMBOY

9:45 o'clock graded Sunday school, Clayton W. Rockwood, Supt. Are you drifting with the crowd which travels in the line of least resistence? Why not start moving in the right direction? Most people who have a regular part in worship find it easier to do those things which require purpose and convviction. Welcome awaits you in all our services. 11:00 o'clock morning worship. Sermon, "Jesus Obedient Unto Death."

6:30 B. Y. P. U. Leader, Mrs. Arthur Bloomquist. Topic: "Christ's Imperfect Saints."

7:30 o'clock evening worship. Sermon, "The Desire of All Nations." The members of the Sublette orchestra will be our guests in this service. They will provide appropriate music.

London's death toll of street accidents is lower than that of New York City, although London has the larger population by 1,000,000.

CIRCUS ROUNDING INTO FORM: WILL BE GREAT SHOW

Gym Boys Ready for Annual Performance Soon

Circus practice is coming along fine these days and the Jing Ling Brothers say this is the best circus that has been jingled together in a long time. And no wonder! King Tutt's World Famous Pyramid Builders are now ready with their sensational and beautiful act. Good fortune surely came to Jing Ling Brothers when they secured this number.

Another stunning number is the "Dance of the Humoresque," by Whosis & Bozo. This will be humorous beyond tears.

However, Jing Ling Brothers say they wil furnish towels for all those who laugh readily. Whosis & Bozo will provoke a smile from any marble statue.

Professor Disappeario has perfected his act and Jing Ling is beside himself with joy to present this number. Not only will he make thing disappear, but from nothing he will produce dogs, eggs, fans, money, and anything that one could desire.

Jing Ling Brothers are very happy over this production and wish to announce that tickets are on sale by the performers and also at the Y. M. C. A. office.

A Far-Reaching Improvement—

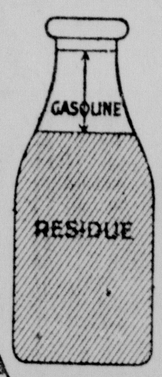

400° EXTRA DRY

SHELL GASOLINE

400° End Point* Greater Power

A Better Gasoline—at No Advance in Price!

*Explaining What "400 End Point" Means

The Improved SHELL Way Takes Only The GASOLINE from the CRUDE

The old way (437° End Point)—the one in general use—takes the gasoline from the crude with part of the heavier and less volatile elements.

The SHELL way (400° End Point) takes only the cream of the crude—producing a higher gravity gasoline—extra dry, clean-burning and wonderfully powerful and effective.

Again—Shell leads the way—offering the motoring public a better gasoline than has been heretofore offered at the regular price.

It's your old favorite—Shell Gasoline—brought to a higher point of power and perfection by lowering the "end point" to 400°. Those who know the process of refining gasoline will appreciate the tremendous importance of this announcement.

Only the most volatile elements—the very cream of the crude—come to you in Shell Gasoline. Obviously by this process, Shell costs more to produce, as less gasoline is obtained per gallon of crude—but the price to you remains the same.

Due to the low "end point," Shell Gasoline is of higher quality—has vastly increased power—gives easier and quicker starting. It is "extra dry"—unusually free from heavy elements—therefore burns cleanly with less crankcase dilution.

Put Shell to the test. Drive to any of the stations where Shell is sold. Fill the tank with this wonder gasoline. Then watch the improved performance of your car—how instantly it starts—how quickly it responds—how quietly it speeds along the road—how smoothly it takes the hills in high.

A single trial will convince you, once and for all, that 400 "Extra Dry" Shell is unquestionably the greatest gasoline value on the market.

Any Yellow-Red Shell Service Station or any Shell dealer is ready to supply you with this NEW Shell Gasoline at the regular price—not one cent extra for the extra quality it contains or the extra service it will render.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

NATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL CROWN MAY GO SOUTH

Teams from Dixie Have Best Chance to Cop at Chicago U.

Chicago, April 1—(AP)—The south had the inside track today to take the national high school basketball title to Dixie.

Four of the eight teams surviving for the championship flight came from the land of cotton and although a hard luck draw made two of them opponents, tournament observers believed that one of the four smooth working combination was destined to inherit the title won last year by Fitchburg, Mass.

Of the remaining four teams, two came from the north, one from the west, with Chicago backing one entry. Teams from the east and the Pacific coast have been eliminated. The two southern squads which face each other in one of tonight's games are Norfolk, Va., and Florence, Miss.

Athens yesterday got the highest tally of the day in defeating Ridgefield Park, N. J., 35-1. Morton High of Cicero held its opponents to the lowest score in defeating Englewood High of Chicago, 23-10.

Today's pairings championship round:

4 p.m.—Pocatello, Idaho vs Huron, S. D.

7 p.m.—Grand Forks, N. D., vs Batesville, Ark.

8 p.m.—Norfolk, Va., vs Florence, Miss.

9 p.m.—Morton High, Cicero, Ill., vs Vienna, Ga.

Consolation Round

10 a.m.—Durham, N. C., vs Waite High, Toledo, Ohio.

11 a.m.—Athens, Texas, vs Fort Fairfield, Me.

2 p.m.—Duval High, Jacksonville, Fla. vs Gilbert, Ariz.

3 p.m.—Northeast High, Kansas City, Mo., vs Durant, Okla.

Yesterday's Results

Pocatello, Idaho, 26; Bothell, Wash., 20.

Huron, S. D., 24; London, Ky., 21.

Grand Forks, N. D., 32; Eau Claire, Wis., 24.

DEMPSEY FEELS HE CAN GET HIS STRIDE BY JULY

Ex-Champion is Confident of Ability to Defeat Tunney

Los Angeles, April 1—(AP)—Jack Dempsey's confidence in his ability to regain the heavyweight crown from Gene Tunney is increasing daily in more than direct proportion to his loss of weight at his "come back" camp at Wheeler's Hot Springs north of here.

The former champion stopped his woodsman's act long enough yesterday to tell visitors that he will be able to trim Tunney or any other heavyweight by July 4.

During the last ten days Dempsey has been tackling every hard job in sight and taking long gruelling hikes over mountain trails. The pace has taken a tuck in his waist line and sliced several pounds from his husky frame.

Dempsey entered the camp with the announcement that he was going to determine whether he can work himself into condition for an attempt to regain his title. The grind seems to have worked wonders and visitors were impressed with the possibility of success for the former champion.

Chicago Bowler Takes Lead at Peoria Meet

Peoria, Ill., April 1—(AP)— The shooting of Adolph Carlson of Chicago, who went into the doubles lead with his partner Art McKoewn with a score of 1314 and into the all events lead with a total of 1933 points, featured Thursday's program at the A. B. C.

Charlie Reinlie of Racine, who shot one of the two perfect games—300 scores—made in an A. B. C. in 27 years is scheduled to roll with his Amtrican Piano Five of Racine, Wis., today.

ON THE ALLEYS

Lloyd Duffy of the Penn Oil team in the City Bowling League, shattered all previous high score records on the Pastime alleys last evening, before a big crowd of bowling fans. John Valle held the high score for 24 hours only, when Duffy performed his unexpected feat by rolling 284. Duffy had a good start for the much coveted 300 mark with ten straight strikes. On the eleventh ball he knocked over seven pins and on the next attempt, missed the remaining three. The Penn Oil team by Duffy's bowling, won back the record for high total for three games with 2,797 pins.

The Chicago Motor club team also set a new record for future bowlers to shoot at on the local alleys with a total of 1,026 pins in one game. The Penn Oil, Independents and Legion are now in a tie for first place, the standings being as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.

THE LIFE OF CHRIST

The Conversion of Zacchaeus

SYNOPSIS ARRANGED BY DR. W. M. E. GILROY, D. D.
SKETCHES BY KROESEN.

As Jesus, thronged with the multitude, passed near Jericho, Zacchaeus, despised as a tax-gatherer for the foreign Roman power, climbed a tree to see Jesus, because he was short in stature. (Luke XIX : 1)

Jesus looked up and saw him, and said, "Zacchaeus, make haste, and come down, for today I must abide at thy house." (Luke XIX : 5)

The people murmured that Jesus had gone to be the guest of a sinner, but Jesus, recognizing the sincerity of Zacchaeus, proclaimed his salvation. (Luke XIX : 7-10)

Jesus taught the lesson of watchfulness and faithfulness in the Parable of the Pounds, in which he condemned the man to whom his master had given only one pound for hiding that pound in a napkin. (Luke XIX : 12-26)

Secrets of 16 Years Successful Pitching

BY GROVER ALEXANDER ©NEA SERVICE

Veteran Pitcher of World's Champions

I have pitched close to 600 games in my career in the National League and, of course, I have not won all of them I have taken my trouncings like all of the boys, but I guess there are three games that stand out most prominently.

The one that gave me the biggest thrill was the 2 to 2 tie of 19 innings in the fall series of 1925 between the Cubs and the White Sox. Here was the old boy, close to 40, still standing the severe pace.

I enjoyed pitching that game, for it convinced me that the arm still had plenty of fire in it. The Sox scored their runs in the third inning and couldn't touch me again until darkness stopped the battle.

I felt so free and smooth that afternoon, in spite of the damp, cold, raw weather that I believe I could have pitched 19 more innings.

The game that brought the saddest heart throb in my career was played in St. Louis during the summer of 1915. After a pitcher has been about so long he craves for the fame of a no-hit game. And here was one all but in my hip pocket.

Only one batter had reached first base on me up to the ninth inning with two out. Luderus missed a slow twisting grounder down the first base line that allowed Miller Huggins to reach first base.

That was all right, for I traveled on without allowing the Cardinals a hit up to retiring two in the ninth.

Artie Butler was the batter. I was never so determined in all my life to fool a batter as this one. I was good and fast back in 1915 and I zipped two curves past him. He swung and missed. One more was all I needed to get over. Another burning curve, and stepping away, he clipped it for a dinky pop fly to shallow center. Dave Bancroft and Dode Paskert tried to get it, but the ball fell between them for one of those pop singles. I have never been that close to a no-hit game since, and I guess I never will be again.

One of the best games I ever pitched was a loser—the 2-1 defeat I suffered in the 1915 world series with the Red Sox. I pitched better in that game than when I won the opener, 3-1, allowing five hits, three of which were flukes.

COMPTON NEWS

COMPTON— Mrs. Bertha Holdren and her son Chester Holdren of Aurora, were here Sunday visiting the formers brother, E. N. Swope, who is confined at the local hospital for an operation which will be performed some time the last of the week.

Mrs. Nettie Cook is somewhat improved after suffering from the effects of high blood pressure, for nearly two weeks. Mrs. Cook has been at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Marie Miller during this recent illness.

Clement F. Johnson was in Ohio station the fore-part of the week, looking after his farm there.

Joseph Kaufman entrained for Chicago, early last Monday morning where he will spend most of this week.

C. G. Archer is spending a fortnight with his uncle John Bloom at Freeport.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Horton have returned to their home here after wintering in Alabama.

Miss Evelyn Gilmore is home for the week, from Rockford College.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Eddy and children have spent the week at the latter's former home. They return to their home Wednesday.

Freemont Kaufman has returned to Chicago, after spending a ten day vacation here at his home. He will resume his studies at the University of Chicago, where he is enrolled as a freshman.

E. N. Swope was brought to the local hospital one day last week, in a somewhat critical condition, and will undergo an operation Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan R. Miller and their daughter Itola are here from Dixon for a few days stay with the latter's mother, Mrs. Jake Hinrichs.

Have you ever made good on one job.. for 39 years?

THE extra mileage you get from Dunlop tires starts with the fact that Dunlop has had thirty-nine years of tire-building experience—more than any other tire-maker.

Each part of each Dunlop is built right. Dunlop owns its own cotton mills to spin selected long-fibre cotton into the special Dunlop cable-twist cords.

These cords mean extra strength—an added factor of safety against constant load and pounding of roads—longer life and greater mileage.

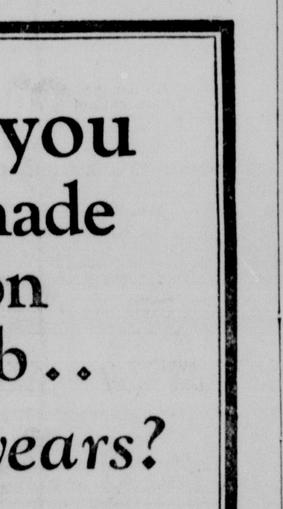

They mean extra "stretch"—so the tire carcass will give under blows, and come back to its original shape without the slightest injury.

Every Dunlop you buy has extra miles built into it because Dunlop knows each part of its job. That is why we recommend you put Dunlops on your car.

UNIFRUIT BANANA WEEK

BANANAS

The All Food Fruit

Starting Saturday and continuing through the following Saturday all local grocers and fruit stores will feature bananas. The object of promoting and calling special attention to bananas during this week is to stress the value of this fruit as a food. Attractive prices and displays will be featured in all stores.
We have been fortunate in securing two cars of fancy fruit to take care of the requirements. About twelve thousand dozen banans will be sold in Dixon and the surrounding territory this week.

BANANA FACTS

In food value bananas rank highest among all fresh friuts and higher than most of the vegetables. The banana has sometimes been called difficult to digest. This is just a mistake. It is true only of the unripe banana and applies to all unripe fruit. A well ripened banana is entirely different and is one of nature's most easily digested foods. We must learn and remember to eat only the well ripened bananas. They can be served as entree, vegetable, salad, dessert or fruit.

BUT THEY MUST BE RIPE

When the green is gone from the tips and the brown spots appear on the yellow skin the banana is ripe and at its best for flavor and food value. At this stage it really almost melts in your mouth. Your grocer cannot keep bananas at this stage of ripeness. You may find his fruit is yellow or just beginning to turn yellow. Buy a full hand. You can ripen them at your home. Place them on a dish in a room of moderate temperature and use them as they ripen.

1 Medium Banana—64 Calories.

Raw and green, this fruit is often indigestible, but baked it acts as a stimulant to the nerves, being at once received and rapidly assimilated by the stomach. Cut bananas in halves; put in shallow pan; sprinkle with sugar and a little lemon juice and bake until soft.

AMY OF "LITTLE WOMEN"

"After passing through the very long tunnel just out of Liverpool," wrote May, the "Amy" of Louisa Alcott's "Littl Women", "I began to wish some lady would get in, as the lighted lamps suggested many tunnels, and the idea of being locked into these cars with the risk of some disagreeable gentleman entering at the next station was anything but pleasant."

La, la, la, how pleasantly the world has changed within the past half century! And how refreshing and wholesome and common-sensical seems today's girl in contrast to the girl of yestterday who fussed about such silly matters. Today's girl would soon stop any "unpleasantness" if she cared to, and fortunately, today's men do not travel the trains seeking women alone in the coaches.

The world's greatest disasters by fire were: London, 1666; Moscow, 1812; Chicago and Paris, both 1871; Boston, 1872; Baltimore, 1904; San Francisco, 1906, Salonica, 1917.

OLD WOMAN STARVES

They found an old lady dead of starvation in Portland, Me., the other day. She was Mrs. Elizabeth Doughty, aged 70. They found a bank book showing the dead woman owned $1,380, silk dresses and other things, never worn. Mrs. Elizabeth Doughty is not the only woman being who never learned how to use money. Any of us can think of many families living without luxuries or even comforts, although they have plenty, all because of a family legend which says "Thou shalt not spend."

GIFT TO PARENTS

No more feeble minded children, is the latest promise of science. Doctors say that feeble-mindedness is wrought by poor functioning of the mother's ductless glands, and that this condition can be found and remedied before the child's birth. This is one of the greatest gifts ever given parents, as only those who have had feeble-minded children can know.

Recent statistics show that there are more automobiles than kitchen sinks in the United States.

Matinee Ladies

BY

William B. Courtney

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"MATINEE LADIES," with May McAvoy, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Ward, college student, gets work as a dancing partner for rich women in a New Jersey roadhouse. At the Inn he meets the prettiest, sweetest girl he has ever laid eyes on—Sally, the cigarette girl. Reciprocating his interest, she warns him against the mysterious and beautiful Mrs. Hammond, habitue of the Inn, who finds her "thrill" in "hunting" Bob for her loveliest apartment. Bob, taking Sally home, finds Mrs. Smith hostile, learns he has a rival, and goes home to dream over the day's events.

CHAPTER X—Continued

Perhaps some forebodings of what lay ahead, some telepathic warning of dramatic turns of Fate, assailed Bob Ward's brain, scampered through his mind, as he settled to sleep.

For he fell at once into a deep but troubled, dreamful sleep in which he was running, with legs of leaden weight, toward goal posts that kept moving away from him—always away, away. He was carrying clutched to his chest a football that kept changing magically into a cuddled-up Sally, and back into a football! And eleven Mrs. Hammonds, with tiger emblems on her—their—jerseys, were relentlessly pursuing him, drawing closer all the time; while all the undergraduates in the stands were dancing with ancient matinee ladies, to the tune of Madame Leonine's orchestra!

CHAPTER XI

The next day Bob sought an interview with his kindly and broad-minded Faculty Adviser, and with his aid arranged a few minor shifts in class schedule. By taking a fuller morning at the Heights, and by transferring some of his afternoon lectures to the evening sessions downtown at the Washington Square Branch of the University, Bog found it would be possible for him to pursue the Palisade Inn afternoon job without suffering any cut into his scholastic points.

"Waiter, if you could bring me what I want, I'd give you the biggest tip."

That accomplished, he plunged into his classroom work with a light heart—but counted the minutes until two o'clock, at which time he met Freddy and Arch, according to plan.

"Yesterday," Arch tormented him as the three journeyed over to New Jersey, "you had to be dragged over here because you piously said that it 'wasn't a fit way for a decent man to make a living!' Today, wild horses couldn't hold you away from the Palisado Inn. Ain't it funny what a difference a little head of gold will make?"

"A stray violet might elevate a cabbage patch!" grinned Bob, no whit abashed.

"Speaking of violets, your loyalty to your dear old Alma Mater's flower is commendable," mocked Freddy, "but there's a brambly rose growing in the same cabbage patch, as you call it, and her name is Mrs. Hammond. Look out, old Soberslabs, that you don't rip your morals on her briars!"

"Don't worry," laughed Bob, "I pruned many a rose bush when I was a kid!"

The first one Bob looked for when, at the end of the sizzling bus ride, he stood once more within the garish portals of the Palisado Inn, was little Sally Smith. His eyes, his soul, were hungry for the sight of the quaint Dresden cigarette girl, who reminded him of old gardens.

But the first one he saw was Mrs. Hammond!

She was seated at her favorite table, waiting. An early bird, indeed, was Mrs. Hammond; and eager for the game of matinee passion to begin.

Madame Leonine was talking to her; and beaming upon the other early arrivals.

Mrs. Hammond was watching for him, and saw Bob instanter. She smiled a broad and gracious welcome, and immediately signalled to him to come to her.

The Madame, noting also the advent of her boys—and above all, her prize performer—hurried toward them, in her wonted way, and badgered them to make haste to prepare for the afternoon's dancing.

She had seen Mrs. Hammond's signal to Bob, and sped him on his way to the woman with an encouraging leer, like a worldly wise mongrel "sicking" a green puppy on a veteran cat.

"Oh, hello, Bob. I'm so glad to see you. I've been waiting for you most anxiously. You've spoiled me for ever dancing with anyone else," Mrs. Hammond said, laughing low in her throat in the soft and musical way that was so disarming, that seemed to Bob the essence of aristocratic restraint.

She was certainly a beautiful creature, Mrs. Hammond! —gracious, and never at a loss for a graceful word.

But Bob recalled himself with grim determination from the easy swamp of admiration of Mrs. Hammond, into which he had started to drift; and remembered that he had not yet seen the dear face and form which had changed his entire outlook on life, and for whom alone he had made this trip today in the highest and fondest expectations.

Meanwhile, he told Mrs. Hammond deprecatingly: "You're awfully kind Mrs. Hammond—Della, I mean—but I'm sure your flattery is unjustified. Why, both Freddy and Arch can dance as well as I can; and there are any number of others who can, too!"

"But they are not you, Bob Ward!" she said positively.

"I'm afraid I don't quite understand what you mean!" said Bob honestly, as he continued his searching looks for Sally.

Mrs. Hammond boiled inside with rage to see that all his thoughts and attentions were for another woman. Outwardly, there was no visible sign of her raging jealousy; other than a scarcely perceptible biting of her nether lip. So far as her appearance in Bob Ward's eyes was concerned, she was still the well-bred lady of wealth and position. With an impulsive nod of her head, she sportively suggested:

"Ride home with me tonight, and I'll explain what I mean, in detail. That's a good fellow—"

But Bob, who had decided that Sally must still be in the dressing room, smiled impersonally down upon Mrs. Hammond, and explained:

"I'm awfully sorry, honest, Delia, but I can't. I sort of made a standing promise with Miss Smith to see her home every night. And now, you must excuse me, please, while I go in to freshen up a bit."

Outwardly, Mrs. Hammond seemed to accept her defeat in good part; so well, that one looking at her casually, as Bob had done, would never suspect the cankering fires that were consuming her within. She just smiled a little and warned:

"Hurry, then, Bob. The first dance is about to begin!"

Bob rushed away; and Mrs. Hammond, hungrily watching his broad and youthful back, gave vent to a muffled curse. A waiter hovering nearby, overhearing an unintelligible sound from her, obsequiously consulted her wish. What did Madame desire? But Madame was in a pensively bitter mood:

"Waiter," she reflected, "if you could bring me what I want I'd give you the biggest tip any waiter in history ever got from anyone!"

"Of course I shall bring whatever Madame wants," he promised, his eyes shining covetously.

Mrs. Hammond shook her head sadly: "You wouldn't even know what I was talking about," she smiled, more to herself than to him.

The waiter turned away, disappointed as his dream of sudden wealth collapsed as quickly as it had arisen.

In the dressing room, meanwhile, Bob had found little Sally Smith. She was in costume already, and engaged in filling her cigarette tray from the tawdry storage case.

"I'm so glad you came in here to say hello to me, before you started to dance, Bob," she said, in her shy way, coloring deeply for sheer happiness as his hands took hold of hers in greeting, as his ardent eyes caressed her. "The boys told me you had stopped to speak to that—to Mrs. Hammond!"

Madame Leonine came up to them. She was not smiling.

"Bob," she said sharply, "you were awfully short with Mrs. Hammond. For your own good, you'd better be more attentive to my guests. Sally, you're wasting too much time in here. You should have had your tray filled, and been outside, ten minutes ago. Come, come, now, I can't have any of this nonsense!"

THIS HAS HAPPENED

At the thirtieth anniversary celebration of the big Curtis Store, old T. Q. CURTIS, millionaire owner, announces the prize winners in a contest which has involved the answering of a questionnaire. BILLY WELLS is one of the winners. She has answered the questionnaire over the protest of CLAY CURTIS, son of the old man, who suspects his father of some hidden motive.

Clay has disinherited himself and is now living with the Wells family in a poorer section of the town, working as a factory hand and writing music at night. Clay has assured Billy that as a violinist she has genius. Billy's answers to the questions are impudent but truthful, while two of her co-workers, NYDA LOMAX and WINNIE SHELTON, lie to gain Old T. Q.'s favor.

Curtis asks the twenty-five winners to meet him in a conference before the dancing begins, and there he astonishes them by a request that they write him a letter, telling just how they would spend a hundred thousand dollars. For the best answers, he offers prizes. Billy is puzzled by this strange request, and all the more so when she suddenly realizes that old T. Q. has picked the very prettiest girls in the store as winners for the first contest.

When Old T. Q. asks Billy to waltz with him later in the evening, then requests her in gentle and pleading tones to do him the honor of cutting the big birthday cake, she is completely dazed with wonder. She resolves to make Clay tell her just what his father's scheme is.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"I was lonely. I had indigestion from eating at Mexican Pete's chili parlor."

CHAPTER XI

IT was one o'clock Sunday morning before the big anniversary party was over at the Curtis Store. Eddie Banning, Nyda Lomax's "boy friend," insisted that Billy and Stanley Powers, Winnie Shelton and Clyde Stewart, her favorite suitor of the moment, pile into the big sedan which Eddie's employer had lent him for the evening. During the day Eddie wore a neat chauffeur's uniform, but that night he was resplendent in Tuxedo and dress shirt, and looked every inch the millionaire owner as he shepherded his guests into the luxurious machine.

The back seat was so wide, and its feminine occupants so slim, that the four of them—Winnie and Clyde, Billy and Stanley—were not at all crowded. Stanley's arm went about Billy's slim shoulders as a matter of course, but she shrugged out of his embrace and sat forward on the edge of her seat.

"Oh, come on, Billy! Be chummy!" Stanley pleaded.

"Oh, I'm in love with the boss's boy, and the boss's boy loves me!" Nyda chanted from the front seat, with a wicked flash of her black eyes as she glanced over her shoulder at Billy.

"I'm fed up on all these insinuations about Clay Curtis and me!" Billy struck her crossed knees sharply with a clenched fist. "Just because he happened to pick out our place to board at, without having the least idea in the world who lived there—"

"But how lucky for you, darling!" Winnie drawled. "Oh, don't get sore! Any girl in the store would give ten years of her life for your chance. We're not blaming you—"

"And did you see T. Q. beauing her around, dancing with her, when he hasn't danced with any other employe of the store in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, and asking her to cut the birthday cake?" Nyda contributed from the front seat.

"Oh, let the kid alone!" Clyde Stewart urged, as he gathered Winnie's tiny body into his arms. "Count us out of the row. Winnie and I have got some important petting to attend to."

"Please take me home first," Billy leaned forward to tap Eddie upon the shoulder.

When the car stopped before her house she almost hysterically refused Stanley Powers' plea that he be allowed to come in for a few minutes.

Billy freed herself at last, and ran up the path to the little weather-beaten frame house. Odd that there should be a light in the living room. Surely her mother wouldn't be such a blessed idiot as to wait up for her till this time of night. She let herself into the hall as quietly as possible, shed her coat and tiptoed to the living room door. It was slightly ajar and she pushed into the room noiselessly.

But it was not her mother who had fallen asleep waiting for her to come home. It was Clay Curtis, sprawled before the fireplace, whose coals were feathering over with a fine dust of ash.

Billy tiptoed to where he half sat, half lay, and knelt beside him, drawing his head ever so gently to her childish breast.

Probably she could have held him in her arms for hours, as she longed to do, but a tear from her own eyes betrayed her by splashing upon the end of his nose. She could not help laughing a little as he wriggled the tip of his nose in an unconscious effort to rid it of that unaccountable drop of warm water.

He did not struggle to a sitting position, just opened his eyes and stared upward at her. Then sleep was utterly routed, the child became a man, a suspicious, bewildered, harassed man who remembered why he had wept unmanly tears as he fought in loneliness before a dying fire for the possession of his soul.

She let him go, her hands dropping into her lap, as he scrambled to his feet and made passes over his hair and his disarranged necktie. His back was turned to her, so that she could not see that his face was red with embarrassment.

"I must have been asleep," he said in a voice almost as gruff as old T. Q.'s.

"You certainly were," she told him cheerfully. "You looked most horribly uncomfortable and I was trying to wake you up without startling you."

"I have never before been awakened so painlessly," he assured her, turning to face her, now that he was sure that she did not intend to refer to her highly unconventional behavior. "Funny—I dreamed it was raining, that a drop of warm rain had fallen on my nose." He touched the tip of his nose, then stared at his finger unbelievingly. "Why, the dream was right! You must have been crying!" he accused her incredulously. "Did you have a rotten time at the party?"

"No—swell," she answered in the lingo of her set, and grinned impudently at him as he flinched. "I wasn't really crying—on a large scale," she added. "I think crying must be catching. I began straight off as soon as I saw you'd been having a weep fest. What had you been crying about?"

He dropped to the floor beside her. "I hadn't been crying on a large scale either," he laughed ruefully. "I don't know why girls think that men never feel weepy. At about one o'clock my accumulated sorrows pressed heavily upon me and I forgot that I belonged to a sex that is not supposed to find relief in tears."

"Accumulated sorrows?" Billy murmured, careful to keep her voice from showing too much sympathy.

"I was lonely. I had indigestion from eating at Mexican Pete's chili parlor—big bowl of chili con carne for fifteen cents, with crackers—and—"

"Serves you right for scorning a perfectly good supper that you'd already paid for," Billy interrupted.

"And I was most awfully lonesome," he went on, ignoring her comment, "and I'd lost my job."

"Oh, Clay, again?" she cried, tactless in her dismay. "Why? They're not fair! They think they're pleasing old T. Q. because they won't let you make a living in their dirty old factories!"

He grinned feebly at her vehemence, but shook his head. "No, I don't think they give two hoots who I am, or who my father is. The foreman said any strong-armed half-wit could handle lumber twice as fast as I can. Told me I simply wasn't husky enough for the job. I don't blame him. He's right."

"Please try the Truman Automobile factory, Clay. Don't be an idiot. They pay the highest wages in town, and surely they have plenty of jobs on machines that don't require heavyweight champions. Just because you went to college with Ralph Truman, and would hate to have him bossing you—"

"It's not that," he contradicted her. "I wanted to try everything else first, so I could say that I hadn't used any pull I might have to get a job. Ralph and I are fraternity brothers, and he's already told me to come around to the plant, and ask for a job in the regular way. Guess I will," he concluded, squaring his shoulders and trying to look like a grim, go-getting young American. Then they both laughed, and Billy sprang to her feet with the suggestion that she make hot chocolate.

Over the cups of rich, dark chocolate, wickedly made with the breakfast cereal cream, she told him everything she could remember about the party, but most fully of all about the awarding of the prizes and T. Q.'s announcement of the second contest.

"Either your honorable parent is crazy, if you follow me, or he's planning to give away his fortune to charity so that if the prodigal son returns there won't be any fatted calf," Billy concluded, nibbling thoughtfully at a sugar wafer. "As a qualified expert on said honorable parent, what would you say, Clay?"

"I know he's not going crazy and I know he hates organized charity too much to give away his hard-earned millions to institutions," Clay told her. "So he danced with you, did he? Somehow I can't see him as a lady killer. I say, Billy, forget that second contest, won't you? Drop it—as if it were a bomb!"

In the next chapter Billy discusses of a mythical hundred thousand dollars and makes a cynical wager with her mother.

Mrs. Will Easter who has been caring for her for five weeks was relieved Tuesday morning by Miss Morris of Dixon who will now stay with Mrs. Crawford. Mrs. Crawford is very slowly improving.

BLACK SKIRTS IN ITALY

Rome—Purely from industrial principles, Italy is trying to restore the longer skirt and the petticoat. Knee-length skirts with scarcely any under things are threatening to wreck Italy's silk-making industry. Now the Minister of National Economy is seeking to popularize a uniform of long, black skirt, petticoat and substantial undergarments. They should be liberally pleated, he says, to use a large amount of material.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED BY THIS SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

You Pay the Bill

When we put PEDRICK PISTON RINGS in any car we KNOW that car is going to run a whole lot better, we also know that it is going to use far less oil, we know it is going to have more power, pep and speed, and we also know that the car with PEDRICK'S is NOT going to have thinned oil by crank case dilution, yes, and we have used lots and lots of PEDRICK RINGS in cars and trucks in the last two years, WE KNOW PEDRICK'S.

We carry a service stock of rings in all sizes so that your garageman can get them for any car or truck. If you have PEDRICK'S installed in your motor you will have the best piston ring manufactured in your motor. You do not take any chances because PEDRICK'S are used in all U. S. Mail Planes—the mail has got to go through—PEDRICK'S take that mail through on time.

The cost to you on PEDRICK'S is very low—THIRTY CENTS a ring for most cars. Chevrolets and Fords are TWENTY-FIVE CENTS. Prices include the OIL CONTROL ring. Get your garageman to install PEDRICK'S in your motor if you want real honest to goodness satisfaction. Come in and see these PEDRICK HEAT SHAPED PISTON RINGS before you have any other put in your motor.
